Our Story

We blame John (Husband & Dad) for sowing the seed of 'Three Fruity Ladies'.

A keen gardener and beyond, he always grew more fruit and veg that we could ever hope to eat!

Wasting produce was never an option so Pam preserved as much as she could and started giving these preserves as gifts to friends who encouraged her to start selling the products.

Eventually she attended a Christmas fair: that was over 20 years ago!

Now joined by her two daughters, Lesley and Emily and with Dad still at hand giving advice on growing the produce to provide the ingredients for our preserves, we are able to say that we truly are a family business.

We pride ourselves on producing delicious homegrown, homemade products made by our food loving family. We hope you enjoy the flavours of our Herefordshire garden.
